A rainstorm accompanied by vivid lightning fashes and deafening thunder held full sway at the Polo Grounds yesdealening inunder held full sway at the Polo Grounds yes-terday for over half an hour, completely flooding the grounds. At 3.30 p. m. it looked as if the proposed New-York-Cleveland game would have to be postpored. Then the sun came out strong and flerce, and workmen with pulls, sponges and sawdust had the grounds in fair condi-tion when the game was started at 4.15, fust a quarter of an hour later than the usual hour.

After the storm a cool, delicious breeze swept down from the green-manaled "Dead Head Hill," and the specialtors in the grand stand enjoyed life for the first time since the hot wave came to town on Sunday. Then the game itself added further to the enjoyment of the specia-ters, the New-York team winning after a spirited and welltors, the New-York team winning after a spirited and wellcontested game. There were a few tad plays to mar the sport, and Burke was the local player to make a bunder, but he atoned for his errors by batting in two runs and also by making a brilliant running catch. Tiernan also made a capital running catch, white D. Lyons played as time a game at triligh base as has been seen in many a day.

The Cleveland men always play a snappy, entertaining game, but they lost what chance they had to win in the fourth inning, when they bunched errors and the home players bunched hits. Cuppy had his hand bedly injured players bunched hits. Cuppy had his hand only influed in this inning and he retired, the gigastic Young taking his place. But one hit was made of Young's delivery in five innings. Rusic pitched a good game, scattering Cleveland's hits nicely. Uniper Wyckoff telegraphed that ounded heart and a troubled conscience.

Neither side secred a run in the first two innings, but In the third the Cleveland men scored a run and took the lead. After O'Connor had been put out. Zimmer got to first on a fumble by Burke. He scored on a two-base hit to left field by Childs.

This seemed to awaken the New-Yorkers, for in the next inning they scored half a dozen runs and took a connection of the lead.

Lyons, the first balennon, was sent to first on called balls, and Tiernan reached first on a poor throw by Zimmer. D. Lyons hit to third and H. Lyons was forced out. Davis tried to complete a double play, but threw wildly to first, and Tiernan scored while D. Lyons reached third. After Dayle had been put out, O'Rourke was sent to first on called balls. Boyle then hit cafely to centre field and O'Rourse scored. Fuller also ich a hit to left held and O'Rourse scored. Fuller also program 3 11 000 Gunhilde. The Water Witch kept dette, Concord, Gunhilde. The Water Witch kept her lead, the Athlon n good second, while the Tigress and Gulnare were battling hard to windward for the third place. Following is the order and time of the yarchs as they came to anchor in New-London Harbort with the program of the control of the co ich a hit to left held and O'Rourze word. Fulle hit safely to right field and Royle scored. Burke red himself by hitting safely to left field, bringing home Rusle and Piller, and New-York had a lead of five runs.

The Cleveland men got one run in the last half of the inning, making the score, New-York 6, Cleveland 2. Davis was sent to first on called balls and scored on a three bese hit to right field by McKeen.

The Cleveland men got another run in the seventh inninc and the spectators began to grow anxious. McAleer led off with a three-base hit to right field. O'Comor made a bunt hit, but McAleer was prevented from scoring. He ceme bome, however, on a sacrifice by Zimmer. Davis's home-run hit to centre field in the eighth inning gave Gleveland the last run of the game. The score was as follows: lows: NEW-YORK. CLEVELAND.

SECOND DAY OF THE CRUISE OF THE ATLANTIC

New-London, Conn., July 26 (Special).-The flagship Water Witch led the fleet of the Atlantic Yacht Club into the Thames River this afternoon. It was a grand race from start to finish, and there were many close brushes between the Athlon and the Water Witch. The only mishap was on board the Guinare. She held on to her lib-topsall a little too long, and down trashed her topmast to the deck. She managed to hold her own with the Tigress and Penguin, however, coming in almost neck and neck with them at the finish. Commodore Banks had ordered that the fleet would get under way at 8 o'clock. When colors were holsted, however, he decided to have his fleet salute the flag of the Pequot Association. He therefore ran down the Atlantic flag, and, not having one of the Pequot's, kept his own at half-mast while the yachts saluted was 8:30 when this was over and the starting-gun

From The Milwankee Sertinel.

"The Oshkoch Northwestern" has a dissertation on what it calls "the antiquated editorial we," the use of which it strongly condemns as "abominable," "senseless," and leading to all sorts of violations of grammar and logic. The provocation to this outbreak by our Oshkoch contemporary in behalf of good taste, advanced journalism, and modernity of style, was given by "The Scattliel." We still use "the antiquated editorial we," and recently an article appeared in these columns in which this phrase occurred. "Though we are not members of that order," which our Oshkoch critic administs in light grammatically, but considers riticulous because it implies that the editor could be "more than one member of an organization." The phrase is therefore, in the opinion of our Oshkosh critic, "an innovation worse than the original barbarism."

We feel this criticism all the more vividly because the of the newspapers ever used it? the editorial "we". This assertion prompted us to look at some of the newspapers seer used it? the editorial "we". The London President of the newspapers hearest at hand which we have been accustomed to consider as rather prominent journals. We examined The New York Iribune, and found that it uses the editorial "we," and "The London Times," "The London News," and "The London Speciator," all supposed to be rather first-class newspapers, and discovered that they are all using "the editorial we," "The Speciator especially ranks very high as a journal patronized by the most intelligent class of readers, but in it we find a sentence beginning, "We do not pretend to predict the answer, but we think we can say as much as this, that if the answer is, as we can say as much as this, that if the answer is, as we can say as much as this, that if the answer is, as we can say as much as this, that if the answer is, as we can say as much as this, that if the answer is, as we can say as much as this, that if the answer is, as we can say as much as this, that if the answer is as the called hope," etc. This shows that London journalists have not yet risen to the Oshkosh standard.

The fact is that while the use of the pronoun in the first person plural in editorial writing should be employed with discrimination, it is, in our judgment, less incongruous and less affected than the continual repetition of the name of the journal itself. When our esteemed contemporary of "The Eungtown Eugle," in order to show that he is a "journalist," and up to the latest styles, not only avoids writing about "our better half," and what goes on "In our midst," but peppers his editorial columns with such phrases as "The Eungtown Eugle," "The Bungtown Bugle," "The Bungtown Bugle," those, ""The Eungtown Bugle; thinks," "In the opinion of The Eungtown Bugle; ""The Bungtown Bugle, thopes, ""The Bungtown Bugle' deprecates," etc., etc., the effect is more ridiculous than if he were to adhere to without abusing the brief and modest if antiquated pronoun. Further, as nearly all first-class newspapers are written and prepared by more than one person, we think the phrase "we are not members of that order" is admissible in an editorial article.

PARMERS AS WELL AS MANUFACTURERS AROUSED THROUGHOUT THIS STATE.

Charles W. Hackett, chairman of the Executive Con a large number of letters yesterday in which it was made plain that the tariff will be the great sue of the present political campaign in this State Manufacturers protest against the adoption of the policy of the Democratic party, as declared at Chicago, that the tariff shall be framed "for revenue only," and with no thought of protection to American labor. The farmers are also keenly interested. Henry Abell, of Albany County, president of the State armers' Lengue, who visited the rooms of the Re-ublican State Committee in the Fifth Avenue Hotel sterday, said that the farmers, irrespective of party, vere forming protection clubs, fearing that the dutie evied upon foreign farm products by the McKinley et would be abolished if Grover Cleveland wer

"The farmers of New-York State," said Mr. Abell, "are more exposed to the competition of Canadian farmers than any other farmers in the United States, seenly Canadian competition in the sale of hay, eggs. burley, potatoes, horses and hops, Before the Mc hill was passed the raisers of hops in Otsego County were exposed to a crushing competition from hops ruised in Germany, and many times had to sell hops for less than it had cost to raise them. ok to this tariff issue to bring New-York State into be for the Republican party." Mr. Hackett received from Utica yesterday excellent evidence of the higher wages paid in the United states for the same class of service than those paid in foreign countries. This evidence was furnished by "The Utica Observer," the leading Democratic newspaper of Central New-York. "The Observer's" evi lence was given in the course of an article which it printed relating to the Thousand Island Park Associaon. The newspaper says:

The Thousand Island Fark Association is in trouble again, and the latest difficulty will be more serious than the gate affair. Yesterday morning John Shanahan, John McKin, John O'Brien and Thomas McCormick, who are Canadian labovers from Kingston, Ont., were arrested at Thousand Island Park for violating the Contract Labor aw. The association is doing considerable work back of the Tabernacle, and in order to obtain workmen as chear paid 22 30 per car, with choiced up the men and sent them down the river. When they lauded, Custom House officer Gates questioned them as to their destination and inquired what they were going to do at the Park. Not anowing the Custom officials, the Canadians showed a letter from Mr. Birch to Mr. Weeks, from which the inspector learned that the men were Canadian laborers, and that y were going to work at the Park. The ins Weeks's house, but he was not at home. I eing the men, said that her husband desired to Manager Brown, of the association, who would how them the work. The inspects at one a rested them, took their allidavits and sent them back to Canada.

"OUR CHAUNCEY,"-" Our Chauncey" is Chauncey
M. Dopew, the masterly leader of the Harrison forces at Minneapolis, who made the principal speech there at Minneapolis, who made the principal speech there renominating the President. Mr. Depew is acknowledged to be the foremost of American orators, brillians, sparkting, sound and sagacious. His after-dinner speeches are both the models and the despair of his "Our Chauncey" is a poem, by Isnac H. Bromley illustrated profusely and comically by Dan Beard and C. D. Gibson, two of the best pen-and-ink artists in New-York City. No doubt every admirer of "Our Chasses," will be delighted to be able to possess it in a permanent and really beautiful form, embellished by capital drawnings and enriched by the poet with a series of exercise. ating notes. It is a delicious piece of fun, and it is moreover thoroughly possessed of a spirit of genial and speere admiration for its eloquent subject. Bromley's humor, whether in prose or verse, is too well known and too highly and generally appreciated to need special comment; but it is doubtful whether he has ever done his wit more credit than in these dashing, rollicking and brilliant verses.
